

SAY!

(By CHARLES J. ARNOLD)

This is the 310th day of the year, 1928, which leaves only 55 days until January 1, 1929, at which time we all can make some new resolutions. Remember only 55 days so do your resolving early.

The Weather:—Well what would you expect.

Abe Martin, in the Indianapolis News, says that the farmer, after having been in the limelight for the past several months, can now get busy trying to make both ends meet. And Abe is not far from right.

Several of the boys who took advantage of the first quail hunting day report that the abundance of quail is as far as they are concerned, still abundant.

A kiss is as good as a mile, but a kiss is much better than a smile. Both are good, however.

WAILIN'S OF A DOG

I'm only a poor little poodle dog But I said to myself, with a laugh Ha! Ha! He! He! I must get for me A beautiful fatted calf.

And so, one day, when the maid was away

And I was alone for a minute I just followed my nose And picked up her hose But the fatted calf was not in it.

I had the extreme pleasure last evening of meeting Dhan Gopal Mukerji of India, an author and lecturer of note, who last evening delivered a lecture in Meharry Hall. While we were talking my boy and one of his friends rode up on their ponies. Immediately Mr. Mukerji was interested in the boys and when he told them that when he was their age he had an elephant to ride, they surely were interested kids. Mr. Mukerji, certainly is an interesting fellow and I hope that, maybe, some day, I shall be able to accept his invitation to visit him in India. I sure would like it much.

Two Coffeyville, Kansas, officers, kidnapped by a bandit, as soon as they were released rushed to a rogue's gallery and identified their abductor as an Oklahoma criminal of long record. Now all they have to do is to catch him.

Governor Al Smith of New York is going to deliver an address to the people of the nation over a big radio hook-up Tuesday night. I hope he is not starting another campaign already.

For Sale:—Second hand 1928 hunting license. Used very little and in perfect condition. Address C. J. A. Herald office.

I would not worry if the Court House sidewalks would suffer the same disaster as "The Sidewalks of New York." And who can tell, maybe they will.

"Support Hoover, is Smith's Plea"—Headline. Well it looks like they did, all right, all right.

The Weather—Yes, yes, it is quite changeable.

Greencastle Traffic rule—Park anywhere, anyway, anytime.

"Shorty" Vaughan has made his after-election call at my office and although I simply refused to talk to him I had to submit to a lot of talk from him, which, I assure, was enough to cause most any Democrat to become infuriated. But, I know "Shorty."

EPWORTH LEAGUE GIVES AN ARMISTICE PROGRAM

The Greencastle chapter of the Epworth League on Sunday evening gave an Armistice Day program. It was at the seven-thirty hour, and was well attended.

The program was arranged by the League's sponsor, R. A. Ogg, and consisted of famous words of fourteen great Americans, leaders in America's great struggles. The words were read and their context given by members of the League. Margaret Ann Inman sang "The Red Cross Nurse."

RUSH TO AID OF STRICKEN STEAMER

HOPE IS FELT THAT ERUPTION HAS SPENT FORCE

DARING NATIVES REPORT THAT FLOW OF LAVA FROM MT. ETNA HAS ALMOST SLOWED DOWN TO STANDSTILL

THREE TOWNS ARE ENGULFED

Sicilians Fall To Knees And Pray For End Of Awful Calamity That Has Laid Country Waste

RIPOSTO, Sicily, Nov. 12.—(INS)—A storm, which swept southeastern Sicily today, added to the misery of the thousands of refugees who have been driven from their homes by the avalanche of molten lava from the crater of Mt. Etna.

Heavy rain fell, throwing up vast clouds of steam as it came in contact with the rivers of fire flowing down the side of the volcano and over the plains west of the Ionian Sea. This moisture formed a great curtain of murk and fog through which shafts of lightning struck with terrifying sharpness. The thunder of the sky blended with the dull, thudding rumblings from the interior of the burning mountain.

The thick atmosphere prevented the wind from carrying off the cinders and dust and clouds of these particles settled down over the refugee camps.

The streams of lava continue to widen and it is now feared that the eruption may continue for another week. At times the flow died down only to belch forth again with renewed fury after a lull.

GIARRE, Sicily, Nov. 12.—(INS)—Hope was felt here today that Mt. Etna's latest eruption, probably the most destructive one of modern times, had spent its force.

Daring natives who ventured near the fringe of the molten mass that has been steadily nearing this city reported that at midnight the flow of the lava appeared to have slowed down almost to a standstill.

With the receipt of this news, thousands immediately fell to their knees praying that they would soon see the end of the awful calamity which has devastated eighteen square miles of this island and is believed to have taken a toll of nine lives and uncalculated property damage.

Other streams of lava, however, were reported to be extending with unabated fury like huge smoky tentacles. The towns of Mascali, Carrabba and Nuziata, together with several smaller hamlets have been engulfed.

At Nuziata, a lone priest, who braved the lava so that he could toll the town's churchbell in honor of the war dead on the tenth anniversary of the Armistice, is believed to have lost his life.

Refugees from the devastated districts are being taken care of by Fascist relief organizations. The heat exuded by the lava stream is terrific and can be felt some distance away. A heavy downpour of rain failed to bring relief.

In some places the molten masses are more than 100 feet high. The eruption has laid waste to some of the most fruitful citrus bearing lands in Sicily.

HIT BY AUTO

Frank Bowman, local plumber, residing on east Hanna street, was knocked down by a local taxi driver, Saturday night at the corner of Seminary and Indiana street about 7:30 o'clock. He was on his way down town and was crossing the street, when the taxi came around the corner and struck him, breaking two ribs and badly bruising his arms. He was given medical aid by Dr. A. E. Ayler and then removed to his home. The driver of the car said he was blinded by bright lights and did not see the man.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and probably Tuesday. Rising temperature Tuesday. Light frost probable tonight in extreme south portion.

Mt. Etna Menaces Two More Towns

While craters atop Mt. Etna's lofty peak vomit fiery destruction in undiminished measure and spread devastation in the plains below, two more towns, Nuziata and Carrabba, are being reached out for by molten lava. Above, a remarkable close-up of the volcano in eruption two years ago and a photo of lava stream. The map shows the relation of towns in immediate vicinity of the Sicilian volcano.

ARMISTICE DAY IS OBSERVED AT SUNDAY SERVICE

DR. G. BROMLEY OXNAM URGES SUBSTITUTION OF INTELLIGENCE FOR THE SWORD IN BANNING WAR—SMALL CROWD IS PRESENT

Two great ideals for which our dead soldiers fought in the recent world conflict, "a war to end war," and a "war to make the world safe for Democracy," cannot be realized until the world ascertains and abolishes the causes which lead to international difficulties, was the text of an Armistice Day address delivered in the high school gymnasium Sunday afternoon by Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam, new president of DePauw University. Dr. Oxnam is a rapid-fire speaker who puts his thoughts across in the least possible words. Great armies and great navies are no guarantee of peace, the speaker said. They merely create suspicion in other countries where similar preparedness follows, he pointed out, and this great preparedness eventually leads to war.

He urged a substitution of intelligence for the sword as the first move toward international peace. An exchange of students between foreign countries would be another step toward the promotion of international understanding, the speaker said.

Dr. Oxnam opened his address with a series of interrogations regarding the method in which the World War dead should be honored. He said honor was due the dead of all nations who participated in the World War. He emphasized Armistice Day as a day of peace, a day sacred to the ideals for which the dead and living had fought.

The Armistice Day program was opened by the high school orchestra which played two numbers, "Flag of Truce," and "United Liberty." Rev. Victor L. Raphael, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, then gave the invocation with the audience standing. The Orchestra then played, "March Militaire," by Schubert, followed by a reading "Flender's Field," by Miss Ethel Morris of the DePauw University public speaking department. The High School Girls' Glee Club sang, "There is No Death," which was followed by the address by Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam.

MANAGER OF THEATERS IN MAYOR'S COURT

O. L. GOODLANDER APPEARS MONDAY AND IS RELEASED UNDER BOND OF $100 FOR APPEARANCE NEXT TUESDAY

Manager Is Charged With Violation Of Old Indiana Blue Law—No Ill Feeling Is Manifested

Sunday shows opened in Greencastle Sunday afternoon and continued at one theater throughout the remainder of the afternoon and evening while the other theater showed an afternoon and evening program. Both shows drew big crowds at the main show in the evening.

While some Greencastle people are opposed to Sunday shows no ill feeling was manifested by those against the movement and no trouble occurred at either of the theaters.

On Monday morning, O. L. Goodlander, manager of the Vonderschmitt movie houses at Greencastle and Crawfordsville, appeared at the office of Mayor Charles McGaughey, to answer to an affidavit charging him "with following his usual vocation on the 11th day of November," in violation of an old Indiana "blue law". Mr. Goodlander pleaded not guilty and was released under bond of $100 pending trial which was set for November 20 at 10 a. m.

It is not believed, however, that the case will come to trial in the Mayor's court, as legal counsel for the defendant has intimated that the case will be taken to the Putnam Circuit court on an appeal. Here the future of the case will depend on the prosecution.

Wade Carmichael is the owner of a new 610 Graham Paige automobile delivered Saturday by the Tribby Garage.

LOCAL ELECTION COST TAXPAYERS SUM OF $3,370.57

COMMISSIONERS ALLOW CLAIMS FOR VARIOUS PRECINCTS AT MEETING LAST SATURDAY

The general election in Putnam County last Tuesday will cost the taxpayers $3,370.57, according to the claims allowed by the commissioners last Saturday at a special session, and several claims yet to be allowed.

The amount of claims in each precinct varied and these are shown in the legal notice of commissioner's allowances to be published later.

The above amount represents the total cost of the election, including the ballots of the county. State ballots used here, of course, were not included in the cost.

STUDENTS DIE IN AIRPLANE TRAGEDY

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—(INS)—Two student civilian aviators were dead today as a result of the collapse in midair of their war-period plane. The dead are George Dusek, 24, owner of the plane, and Gordon Baird, 32, pilot.

A part of the mechanism fell away when the antiquated plane was 1,500 feet in the air, causing Baird to lose control. The doomed machine hurtled 1,000 feet in a tailspin and then Dusek was seen to jump. He had no parachute.

The Moffett family held a reunion dinner today at the Belnap Hotel. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Moffett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moffett, Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Gill all of Cloverdale.

A delightful dinner was served yesterday at the home of Miss Jennie Black in honor of her guest, Miss Nellie Hackett of Oakland, Ill.

Mrs. D. S. Bowen and Mrs. S. P. Vaughan of Coatesville were shopping in Greencastle today.

Misses Catherine Sears, Ethel McDonald and Babe Ward were in Brazil, this afternoon.

STUDENT IS KILLED AS HE AWAITS TEAM

FOUR ROOTERS IN CROWD WAITING TO WELCOME RETURNING FOOTBALL SQUAD SERIOUSLY INJURED

TRUCK HURLED INTO CROWD

Northwestern University Student Shot By Man In Sedan at Chicago—Affair Follows Collision

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 12.—(INS)—Jack Gleason of Canandaigua, N. Y., sophomore at Notre Dame University is dead and four of his companions are in a hospital here today as the result of a railroad baggage truck smashing into a crowd of students who were awaiting at the station to welcome home the victorious Notre Dame football squad.

A passing train nicked the side of the baggage truck, parked too near the track, and sent it hurtling into the crowd of young people.

Among the injured were two girls, one of whom may die. They are Marjorie Mason, 21, of Etna Green, Ind., and Madeline Van Hoke, 18, of South Bend. Miss Mason sustained a fractured skull and internal injuries. Her condition is critical.

Paul Duncan, 18, of La Salle, Ill., a junior at Notre Dame, and John Robert Hurley, 21, of Joliet, Ill., also a junior, were the others injured. Duncan suffered a broken leg and Hurley was cut and bruised.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—John Chandler Acher, 21, fullback on the Northwestern University football team, was near death today following an attack made upon him by four gunmen. A bullet penetrated Acher's back at the spinal column and even if he lives, physicians say, he probably will be paralyzed.

The football player and his brother Chester, 16, were driving down Michigan boulevard in a car borrowed from one of John Acher's fraternity brothers. They scraped fenders with a large sedan, but believing no damage had been done the brothers kept going.

After traveling several blocks, Chester told police, the big sedan pulled along side of the Acher car. There were three men inside and a fourth stood on the running board waving a revolver and cursing, the boy said. Without further warning the man opened fire and a second later the older brother slumped over the wheel.

"I'm hit," he said. "Take the wheel—I can't move my legs."

Chester said he steered the car to a safe stop, then slipped into the driver's seat and hurried his brother to a hospital. Meanwhile, he said, the gunmen sped away.

Two policemen, near the scene of the shooting at the time, gave chase on motorcycles but lost the sedan in the traffic.

The wounded youth saw service in Saturday's grid game against Purdue. He was playing his last season with the Northwestern varsity squad. Besides his football activities, Acher was known as an athlete in intramural and interfraternity sports.

Chester is a student at the Missouri Military Academy at Mexico, Mo. He came here Saturday to play with his team against Morgan Park Military Academy. He admitted that he and his brother had had "a few drinks" before they ran afoul of the hoodlum car. They had been "cabaretting," Chester said.

The Acher's boy's home is at Fort Dodge, Ia., where their father, Dr. A. E. Archer, is a prominent physician.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the Secretary of State by the Long Branch Telephone Company. Object of the company is to hold, own and operate telephone lines in the vicinity of Long Branch, west of Greencastle. Incorporators are Carol Moore, W. E. Gowen, C. B. Cantonwine and M. J. Hepler.

PASSENGERS OF OCEANLINER TAKE TO BOATS

SHIP 100 MILES OFF CAPE HATTERAS SENDS PLEAS FOR AID

TROUBLE IS UNKNOWN

Barbadoes-Bound Liner S. S. Ventris In Distress Early Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(INS)—One hundred twenty-nine passengers from the foundering liner Vestris and 210 members of her crew cruised in life boats off the Virginia coast this afternoon while a dozen ships rushed to their rescue. At noon the wireless operator on the stricken ship reported it was being abandoned and passengers had been taken off.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(INS)—With a heavy storm bearing down upon them, the 200 passengers of the Barbadoes-bound liner S. S. Vestris took to the life boats shortly before noon today when the commander of the damaged vessel abandoned his attempts to reach the Virginia shore and ordered the passengers off while still more than a hundred miles from the coast.

At the same time word was flashed to the sinking ship that a U. S. Destroyer had been dispatched from Norfolk, Virginia, to pick up the passengers.

The Radio Marine Corporation of America which has maintained constant communication with the vessel stated that even at the time of abandonment the Vestris' wireless operator had failed to give the nature of the ship's trouble which was presumed here to be a fire in her hold.

In addition to the U. S. Destroyer the Radio company reported that several other ships, including the transatlantic liner Cedric were believed speeding to the scene of the abandonment.

All haste has been urged upon the vessels in view of the approaching storm which is reported to be of proportions sufficient to wreak havoc upon the small lifeboats.

The last message from the Vestris read: "Thirty-two degree list to starboard. Starboard end with deck under water. Please rush all possible speed."

According to marine authorities, the message was intercepted as meaning that the stern of the vessel had been lifted out of the water, her propeller spinning uselessly while the vessel rolled at the mercy of the seas, out of control.

Her position was estimated at about 100 miles off Cape Hatteras.

KIWANIANS TO ENTERTAIN AT LADIES NIGHT

The Greencastle Kiwanis Club will hold a ladies night session at the Christian Church at 6:30 Wednesday evening, November 14th. The program committee is planning a fine musical program and a number of interesting stunts. J. O. Cammack, who was the delegate of the Greencastle Club to the last International Convention, will give a talk and show some of the pictures which he took on this trip. A reflectoscope has been secured and the pictures will be reflected on a large screen.

The ladies night which was planned two weeks ago was called off because of so many conflicting dates. It is hoped that every member of the club will be present for this meeting. The members are asked to notify Joe Crosby at the Central Bank not later than Wednesday morning.

The Red Cross drive in Greencastle, in charge of the members of Phi Delta Kappa, opened Monday and will continue two weeks. More than 100 Red Cross members had been secured at noon.

GOVERNOR SMITH

When Governor Alfred E. Smith goes out of office Jan. 1, the state of New York and the nation will lose one of the great. He is great in heart and mind. He is great in fidelity to the common people.

His greatness will grow in the estimate of the country as campaign passions cool. Those who have hated him for his church will come to respect him for simple loyalty to his religious faith, which has strengthened him in long public service.

The Catholic church cannot give too many such sons to the nation. Nor can that church have a better missionary for the civic virtue of its creed. His service is sufficient answer to those who question the Americanism of his fellow believers.

He has given himself to public labor for a quarter century. In all those years as a municipal official, legislator and state executive, he has been almost without exception a leader of the people and champion of their rights.

His reward is the richest that can come to any man—the confidence and affection of the people. That confidence and affection is not dimmed by his election defeat in New York and in the nation.

Smith received the largest popular vote ever given a candidate of his party. In the percentage of popular votes with the exception of 1916, his defeat was by the narrowest margin in twenty years. This was despite the fact that his handicaps as a candidate were perhaps more powerful than any presidential candidate ever had.

He had a minority party and that divided against itself; he had a minority issue in prohibition modification; he had an opponent of almost unique popularity, riding a wave of national prosperity; he had the mark of a church which has helped build America under a Constitution of religious equality, but which is prescribed by millions of voters.

When 14,000,000 Americans vote for such a man for President, it is an earnest of the tolerance of the nation and of the power of that man. We record this as among those who chose Hoover as even better fitted for the presidency, but who never have doubted that Smith would have served the nation with distinction and honor.

As Lincoln represented an earlier rural American so Smith in a sense is a symbol of the newer coming America of the immigrant and of the city.

American public life will be poorer without the gallantry, the color, the wisdom and the lonely honesty which have been the secret of his power.

We wish for Alfred E. Smith long life and happiness when he takes his post as a high private in the ranks of American democracy.—Indianapolis Times.

Thousands Flee Mt. Etna Eruption

Many are dead and thousands are homeless as a result of latest eruptions of Mt. Etna in Sicily, the worst in more than a quarter of a century. Mascal, a thriving town of 7,000, was inundated and wiped out in boiling lava—as completely as was Pompeii 2,000 years ago by Vesuvius. Photos above, taken during a previous eruption, tell the story of tragedy now being enacted on Etna's burning slopes. Above, an airplane view of deadly crater; inset, fugitives hurrying down mountainside before onrushing lava, and, below, dazed villagers looking on as houses and trees and gardens are swallowed up in the molten stream.

SMALL DEALERS FIGHT TO MEET CHAIN SYSTEMS

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Since the Commerce Department launched its campaign to assist small independent merchants in their fight to dodge failure and the serious competition offered by the rapidly increasing chain store systems, thousands of letters have been received from individual business men seeking aid.

For the first time in America's business history it appears that the distributor has been aroused to the realization of the fact that if he stays in business he must put his operations on a scientific basis and apply the same general policies that have so successfully placed the producer on a footing to meet the competition of cheaper labor of manufacturers in foreign countries.

The campaign is being directed by Dr. Julius Klein, head of the foreign and domestic commerce section.

Trade Problems
 "To proceed efficiently, the independent merchant needs, above all else, dependable facts as to his particular trade problems," Dr. Klein declared. Klein holds the belief that there is plenty of room and plenty of business for the independent merchants in the American business system, in spite of the chain stores, provided his business is conducted on a scientific basis.

Klein pointed out that the big merchandising organizations succeed largely because of their outstanding efficiency, skill in management, concentration on absolute essentials, rigorous elimination of waste motion and superfluous expenses. He declared that it is a mistake to assume that their sole reason for success is their mere physical bigness and consequent ability to get "quantity discounts."

"Now, economy and efficiency can be applied in the small business just as well as the large—and they must be applied by the independent retailer if his business is to survive and thrive," Klein said.

"Today, conditions in retail trade are changing rapidly. Powerful, imperfectly comprehended forces are at work. Confusion exists, together with such a strange overlapping of activities that our department of commerce investigations have actually found tobacco being sold in shoe stores and men's clothing vended in Butcher shops."

Guiding Retailers
 The commerce department is striving to supply the facts which must be available to the independent retailer for his guidance. The domestic commerce division is devoting much time not only to the solution of countless special, individual problems that are submitted, but also to throw light on the broad, general questions that confront the independent business man today.

"These problems come to us from business people throughout the country at the rate of 10,000 a day, as against 700 a day in 1921," Klein said. "In answering the department tries to give them exactly what they want. The majority of the questions are pertinent serious queries."

AT 77, DEAN POST ENTERS HIS FIFTIETH YEAR IN UNIVERSITY

Birthdays must be happy occasions for some folks and Dean Edwin Post may well be counted in with the "some". Being successfully 77 years old and universally loved is a rightful subject for inspiration.

Dean Post graduated from Dickinson college in 1872 and six years later, have taken his master's degree, he came to DePauw as a Latin instructor. Since that time he has been made head of the department of Latin language and literature. In 1904 he was made dean of the college—an office which he still holds and executes with efficiency.

He was born in Woodbury, N. J., on November 7, 1851. Besides the A. B. and A. M. degrees, Dean Post was awarded the honorary degree of Ph. D. in 1884. He was ordained in the Methodist ministry in 1875 and from 1879 to 1896 he served as librarian of the University. Before coming to DePauw he was a Greek instructor in the University of Berlin and Bonn and instructor of Latin in Pennington seminary. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi and Phi Beta Kappa.

That Dean Post has put to advantage his brilliant talent and thorough training is evidenced by DePauw's academic standing today. A scholar of merit himself, he has been a tremendous influence in the establishing of the high standard of scholarship maintained by the University.

Dr. Post's regard for his students is reflected in their love and loyalty to him. Despite the awe-inspiring letters following his name Dean Post does not raise a barrier to those who would know him. Congeniality is manifested in his every action. Fifty years of fruitful service is a subject for congratulations.—The DePauw.

GETS LETTER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 10.—(INS)—A letter addressed to Harry E. Royse, federal internal revenue office, Cross Roads of America, was delivered to Royse here without delay.

The letter was mailed at the Los Angeles, Cal., postoffice at 8 p. m., Nov. 2 and was received here at 1:30 p. m., Nov. 4.

The name "Cross Roads of America" or Indianapolis was coined by William Herschell, local poet.

LOTTIE PICKFORD ROBBED, HER ESCORT ATTACKED

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 9.—Lottie Pickford, sister of Mary, the film star, reported to police that she had been robbed by four men early today who took her valuables after knocking down her escort. The robbers accosted the actress while she and Jack Daugherty, a friend, were en route to Miss Pickford's home in an automobile.

Miss Pickford said she was carried to a lonely spot by the four men after they had felled and robbed Daugherty. She prevailed upon them to release her after they had taken her valuables.

OLD BATTLESHIP BRITISH TARGET MOVES BY RADIO

By International News Service

GLASGOW, Nov. 10.—A former giant battleship, a scarred and battered veteran, which like a ghost ship rides the waves without a crew, and is steered by unseen hands, is now the target of the British Atlantic Fleet.

She was once the Centurion, the pride of the Grand Fleet in time of war, and sister-ship of the Audacious which was sunk by a mine. Now, a shattered, dismantled remnant of her former glory, she carries within her heavy armored interior marvelous apparatus which is the most guarded secret of the British Admiralty.

Badly Battered

Gunless and turretless, and her superstructure smashed to smithereens, Centurion has already undergone a heavy mauling from the guns of the warships. Nevertheless, all the damage has been superficial and her remarkable qualities remain unimpaired.

She has a crew of about 250 officers and men, but when she puts to sea to fulfill her functions as a target her complement is disembarked and she comes under the control of the destroyer Shikari. The latter vessel, during gunnery exercises, steams about a mile astern, and by means of wireless waves determines the movements of Centurion.

The signals from the destroyer are transmitted by numbered dials like those used for automatic telephones. These are received by various little aerials scattered about Centurion, which automatically repeat back to show that each signal has been received.

All Automatic

The Centurion can be made to start her engines, to increase or decrease speed, to stop or go astern, to alter course through any number of degrees required, to emit smoke to shield herself when under heavy punishment, and generally behave as though she had all her officers and men aboard.

So uncannily does Centurion respond to her signals that it is difficult to realize that she does not carry a soul, and immense possibilities are opened up by this amazing development in naval science.

One member of the crew, however, refused to desert the ship under the heaviest bombardment. This is the ship's cat, she always carries on, untrifled, amid the tumult of battle.

JOHNSON RETAINED

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—(INS)—Lewis C. Johnson, formerly of Hartford City, will continue as chief deputy state auditor during the next administration. Archie N. Bobbitt, State auditor-elect, announced he would retain Johnson during the next four years.

METEOR SHOWER IS PROMISED

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—November 15 there will be the most brilliant spectacle of shooting stars ever afforded this generation, it was predicted this afternoon by astronomers at the Yerkes Observatory, Williams Bay, Wis. On that night the earth moves into the astral region of the Leonid meteors believed to be the remnants of a comet.

The Leonid group, it was explained by Professor Edwin B. Frost, director of the observatory whirled around the sun in an orbit that crosses the earth's. Every November the orbits meet, but in an interval of every thirty-three years the earth passes squarely through the center of the Leonid orbit.

"The Meteors speed through interplanetary space at a temperature about 400 degrees below zero," Prof. Frost said. "Where they enter the atmosphere of the earth the friction heats them to a glow and they usually burn up before they strike the ground."

50 SOVIET SETTLES ON WRANGLER ISLAND FEARED DOOMED TO SURE DEATH

By International News Service

MOSCOW, Nov. 10.—Fifty settlers on Wrangel island who volunteered to brave the perils of the Arctic to validate Soviet Russia's claims to that bleak speck of land, are facing almost certain death from disease. All attempts to get fresh food and drugs to the little band have failed. The last radio reports from the colony, picked up early in the summer, indicated that virtually all of the settlers were suffering from scurvy.

Winter set in towards the end of September. The last icebreaker, the Stavropol, started from the Siberian coast with a cargo of food, clothing and medicine late in August. It got to within 60 miles of Wrangel Island and was stopped by impenetrable ice. Two airplane expeditions sent out previously were forced to land on the ice before reaching the island. A third expedition will be attempted if weather permits.

ELECTION DEBTS PAID

By International News Service

Now that the election has been decided the customary freak election bets are being paid.

Some of the betters are not shav-ing, others are taking ice baths and still others are doing other ridiculous things in payments of their wrong opinions.

ALEXANDRIA, Ind., Nov. 10.—(INS)—Because he bet on Al Smith Jack Heller, an employee of the Westside factory, had to give the winner, William Cullen, a wheelbarrow ride through the business part of Alexandria.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 10.—(INS)—Samuel Todd, a poolroom operator of Ben Davis must shell out $75.00 in cash or go for six months without a shave because he bet on Al Smith.

PORTLAND, Ind., Nov. 10.—(INS)—Ralph Huey, employee of the city electric light department here, had to carry a live monkey on his shoulder down the middle of Meridian Street here together with big sign proclaiming: "Us monkeys voted for Al Smith."

Former Sufferer Tells How Konjola Went To Source Of Her Stomach And Kidney Ills

MRS. EDITH PARKER

The astounding health recoveries that follow the use of the new medicine, Konjola, are accounted for by the fact that this super-medicine of 32 ingredients—22 of which are the juices of roots and herbs of known medicinal value—goes directly to the ailing organs, the very seat and cause of the disease. Read of the wonderful experience of Mrs. Edith Parker, 811 South Waugh street, Kokomo, Indiana.

"For years I was a victim of stomach and kidney troubles and of constipation," writes Mrs. Parker. "I was so nervous that the slightest sound upset me. I lost sleep because of frequent night risings, and as I gained little benefit from the small amount I could bear to eat, I grew weaker day by day, and could not do my housework. I decided to give Konjola a trial. Well, I felt better with the very first bottle, and four bottles actually made a new woman of me. I can hardly believe that all my health problems have been solved, and I gladly endorse this astonishing medicine for its quick and glorious results."

Konjola is sold in Greencastle, Ind., at Owl drug store, and by all the best druggists throughout this section.

How to Play BRIDGE

Series 1928-29 by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

ARTICLE No. 21

Good "Card Manners" should be cultivated by every card player, not only because they make the game more pleasant but also because they are a winning proposition. A player has a much better chance to win with a partner who is satisfied and happy than with one who is upset by constant and unpleasant criticism. Try it out and you will be surprised at the good results.

One player in particular of the writer's acquaintance has perfect card manners: He makes every bid in the same even tone of voice (how often players improperly convey a meaning by making a bid emphatically or hesitatingly) He never hesitates in playing a card with the object of making the opponents think that he has something in his hand which actually is not there; and if he has a bad partner, he seeks every opportunity of congratulating him on a correct piece of play and never refers to errors. Thereby he gets the best out of the bad partner. Cultivate good card manners and you will automatically increase your winnings.

In the preceding article twelve problem hands that appeared in an English competition were given for the reader to decide upon the proper bids. The hands were as follows:

Z is always the dealer and the other players are sitting around the table as follows:

HOOVER PLANS TO OPEN MARKET IN THE TROPICS

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(INS)—The real purpose of Herbert Hoover's proposed tour of South and Central American countries is to insure American prosperity for another four years by opening fresh markets for American goods in the nations south of the Rio Grande, it was learned today.

The President-elect believes a personal visit would tend to promote a new era of friendship between the United States and the nations to the South, thus laying a proper basis for the development of new trade channels on the American continent.

The development of foreign commerce was one of Hoover's chief tasks as Secretary of Commerce during the last eight years. During his tenure in the Cabinet, it was pointed out, American exports grew a billion dollars to a new grand total of $4,865,000,000 in 1927, the largest in the history of our country. This figure, however, left the United States still in second place among the export nations of the world and it is Hoover's ambition to make America first in this respect.

Hoover always has thought that American merchants were losing a golden opportunity in South America.

The President-elect incidentally has first hand knowledge of commercial conditions and national affairs on every continent, save South America. He has worked in Australia and the Orient; he spent years in Europe and Asia, but he had never visited South America.

Early in his campaign for the Presidency, Hoover announced that "the outlook for the world today is for the greatest era of commercial expansion in history." He pointed out however that "these other great nations (that engaged in the war) are now emerging from the destruction of war.—The rest of the world will become better customers. They will have larger demands but they also will become stronger competitors." Consequently, Hoover plans to win, meet European competition in South America and endeavor, one and for all time, to establish American trade firmly in the Southern hemisphere.

NEED OF MORE SHIPS CITED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(INS)—Taking their cue from President Coolidge's Armistice speech before the American Legion, Congressional "Big Navy" advocates mustered forces today to jam a cruiser building bill through Congress.

The president served notice that America was tired of bickering with Europe over naval disarmament which was not equitable to the United States and intended to build more cruisers to put the American navy on a parity with the British. He pointed out that the British cruiser program called for 68 ships against 40 for the United States.

"We have not only a long coast line distant outlying possessions, a foreign commerce unsurpassed in importance, and foreign investments unsurpassed in amount, the number of our people and the value of our treasure to be protected, but we are also bound by international treaty to defend the Panama Canal," said the President. "Having few fueling stations, we require ships of large tonnage and having scarcely any merchant vessels capable of mounting 5 or 61 inch guns, it is obvious that, based on needs, we are entitled to a larger number of warships than a nation having these advantages."

This was a reply to the British who at the Geneva naval conference, insisted upon limiting the type of ships America desires.

He declared that had America accepted the Franco-British naval accord, "The French army and the British Navy would be so near unlimited that the principle of limitations would be virtually abandoned."

The speech also dealt with war debts and the anti-American spirit existing abroad. He said America reaped no benefit from the world war and ridiculed the charges that the United States, by insisting upon collecting a portion of the war debts, was a "Shylock."

Again he reiterated that this country would keep out of old world intrigues and squabbles.

DEPAUW DOWNS GREYHOUNDS BY A 25 TO 0 SCORE

TIGERS RUN RAMPANT OVER VISITING INDIANAPOLIS ELEV-EN-CASSIDY AND BRANDEN-BURG SCORE IN FIRST HALF—CRAWLEY RECEIVES PASS IN LAST FRAME

Speed and a clever attack were the factors responsible for DePauw's 25-to-0 victory over the fighting Indiana Central football team here Saturday afternoon.

DePauw broke into the scoring column soon after the first period started.

Indiana Central fumbled on its fifteen yard line and the Old Gold gained possession of the ball.

On the next play, Cassidy, Tiger right half, skirted left end for a touchdown.

The kick for extra point went wide.

Cassidy again scored when DePauw marched down the field after the visitors punted. Reaching the fifteen yard, Cassidy duplicated his end run and placed the pigskin behind the goal line. The attempt for the additional point fell short.

"Speed" Brandenburg was injected into the fray by Coach Hughes when the second quarter got underway. The DePauw back field remained in the game long enough to race forty-five yards for his team's third touchdown and made good the kick for the extra tally.

The Greyhounds braced in the third period keeping the local collegians from scoring on three different occasions. DePauw worked the ball down within six inches of the goal, but the boys from Indianapolis held. The Indiana Central line again stiffened with the ball on the two-foot line. The opposition put up by the Greyhounds later in the same quarter again prevented the Old Gold from scoring from the two-yard line.

In the final frame DePauw's fourth touchdown came as a result of a forward pass. Vanriper to Crawley. The Indiana Central line held for three downs in the shadows of the goal post. On the fourth play, Vanriper, sub quarter, called for an aerial formation and Crawley received the ball behind the line. The try for extra point failed.

The work of Capt. Vance, right tackle for the Greyhounds, was one of the outstanding features of the contest. Brandenburg and Cassidy showed dazzling speed for the winners. Niergarth and Bray looked strong in the Tiger lineup.

A Medical School was added to the University of Southern California at the opening of the 1928 semester, and also a new College of Engineering, the latter embracing chemical, civil, electrical, mechanical and petroleum engineering. The new buildings, representing an outlay of approximately one million dollars, were occupied this term, including the Student Union, Bridge Hall and Science Hall.

In 1930 and 50th anniversary of the founding of the University of Southern California will be celebrated. When S. ## D. A. R. TO SHOW HISTORIC FILMS

Washburn Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will present the films "The Eve of the Revolution" and "Vincennes" at the High School Tuesday, Nov. 13.

These films, two of the Chronicles of American History were prepared by Yale University press, in which effort was made to give an historically accurate picture of great events of American History.

"The Eve of the Revolution," a picture which reveals the state of mind of the Americans preceding the actual outbreak of hostilities, by recreating the incidents of the Stamp Act. Taxation without Representation, the Boston Tea Party, the Boston Massacre, the ride of Paul Revere, the military clashes at Lexington and Concord and the retreat of the British.

"Vincennes," is built around one of the most dramatic incidents of American history, a forced march by an ill equipped band of pioneer soldiers through flooded lands of the Illinois Country in mid-winter without boats and with a failing food supply to an heroic attack upon a force of British regulars entrenched in a fort. The very daring and audacity of the leader and his men so overwhelmed the British that they surrendered, and with their surrender British control of the region northwest of the Ohio river was brought to an end.

The arrangement for the display of these films has been made with Indiana University which is sponsor for Yale films in Indiana.

16TH CENTURY MUSIC WILL BE FEATURED

ENGLISH SINGERS OF LONDON TO GIVE PROGRAM IN MEHARRY HALL, FRIDAY EVENING—DE-FINE UNFAMILIAR WORDS

When the English Singers of London sing here on Friday evening, November 16th, at Meharry Hall, their program will be made up of musical selections from the 16th Century, which many believe to be the golden age of English music, as well as English literature.

The program will consist of Madrigals, Canzonets, Ballets, and Motets and since these words may be unfamiliar to some who will find great pleasure in the work of this unique ensemble which has last season alone sold out six concerts in New York City, the following definitions have been supplied by Mr. Cuthbert Kelly, spokesman for the Singers:

MADRIGAL—A composition for two or more voices unaccompanied to secular verse, often but not always, of a pastoral kind. All the voice parts are of equal interest and mainly designed from the same melodic material. At first the term was applied to the verse and later to the music "made on" the serve. The Madrigal form flourished in the 16th Century in Flanders, Italy and England.

CANZONET—"A little short song or 'air.' This is one of the many terms which the madrigal composers applied to their music. Originally a canzonet was designed on a smaller scale than a madrigal but in fact the style of composition is the same in both.

BALLET—A composition for voices like the madrigal but with a much more regular and simple rhythm and with a Fa-la refrain. In its more primitive form it was a combination of singing and dancing but it was not danced by Elizabethan singers. It may be pointed out that it is an error to regard the Fa-la refrain as the distinguishing feature of the Madrigal.

MOTET—A composition for voices unaccompanied, set, as a rule to Sacred words. Thomas Marley describes a motet as "properly a song made for the church either upon some hymn or Antheme or such like"; but the term includes "all grave and sober musiks" i. e. compositions of a specially serious and introspective kind.

WOULD BAN HINDUISM

GARY, Ind., Nov. 12.—(INS)—Commercialized Hindu philosophy which is being promulgated throughout this country by native teachers in the drawing rooms to idle women with financial success to the promoters, should be suppressed as the work of the devil according to Rev. O. B. Sarber who addressed the Gary Ministerial Association here on his two year sojourn in India.

"Hinduism is making headway in this country and it is making more progress than you may believe," the speaker said. "Those native teachers have an appeal to idle women to whom they teach their philosophy."

Rev. Mr. Sarber declared that the sex thought of India was the lowest on earth and this condition prevailed not only among the low caste people
